Major Leaguers Honor Local Student Volunteers

Joe Mauer and Nick Punto Recognize Student Leaders in National Program to Encourage Youth Volunteerism

Minneapolis, MN, Tuesday, July 07, 2009 ... During an on-field ceremony prior to tonight's game, Minnesota Twins players Joe Mauer and Nick Punto will represent all Major Leaguers when they honor eight high school students serving as Captains of the Minnesota Action Team®, part of the national service-learning program in which Major League players and high school students are inspiring and training the next generation of volunteers. During the 2008-09 school-year, these Action Team Captains raised awareness about the importance of community involvement among other students in their high schools and organized volunteer activities.

Administered by the Major League Baseball Players Trust and Volunteers of America, the Action Team program encourages young people throughout the United States to volunteer in their communities. To date, Action Teams of high school students and Major Leaguers have inspired more than 18,000 high school students across the country to help over 80,000 people in need by volunteering in their communities. An Action Team service-learning curriculum created by the Players Trust in partnership with The Wall Street Journal Classroom Edition teaches valuable community service skills to 700,000 high school students in more than 5,000 classrooms across the country. The Association of Educational Publishers presented the Major League Baseball Players Trust with a 2009 Distinguished Achievement Award for this innovative service-learning program.

Receiving signed certificates of achievement from the players tonight are Minnesota Action Team Captains Max Hager from Southwest High School; Bo Selleck and David Tranvik from Benilde-St. Margaret's and Brian Anderson, Hannah Milos, Jessica Nelson, Breanna Olson and Sadie Tetrick of South St. Paul High School. Also, David Tranvik receives a $1,000 college scholarship from the Major League Baseball Players Trust in recognition of his dedication to community service.

Action Teams are working together in Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Dallas/Ft. Worth, Denver, Detroit, Houston, Indianapolis, Maui, Minneapolis, Mobile, New York City, Oakland, Philadelphia, Portland (Maine), San Francisco, San Juan (P.R.), Santa Fe, Seattle, Tampa and Washington D.C.. Beginning in September 2009, virtually every high school in America will be able to join the Action Team by participating in a new Internet version of this unique service-learning program. Action Team applications and additional information can be received by sending an e-mail request to ActionTeam@mlbpa.org.

Through the Players Trust, Major Leaguers contribute their time, money and celebrity to call attention to important causes affecting the needy and to help encourage others to get involved in their own communities.
